Foreword

Out of School Hours Care (OSHC) is a crucial support for many South Australian families.

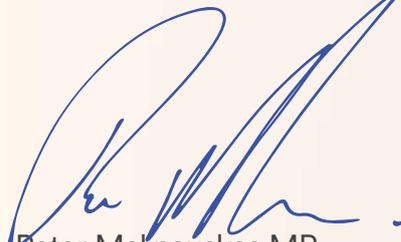

We know that OSHC provides working parents with flexibility and gives kids the opportunity to make new friends outside of the classroom.

But we know that not all families are able to access OSHC when they need it.

This means that parents aren't able to contribute to the workforce as much as they might like, and that kids don't have extra opportunities to build on their social and communication skills.

That's why the Malinauskas Labor Government is taking to the election a bold plan to give every public primary school child access to OSHC.

We want to give parents and families across the state the peace of mind to stay at work, knowing that their children are safe, engaged and entertained.

GIVING EVERYONE ACCESS TO OSHC

Nearly 12,000 children aged 5 to 12 years old access OSHC at a government primary school on any given day.

Combined with the Child Care Subsidy, easy access to OSHC provides a genuine opportunity for parents and families to increase their working hours, putting more money in their pockets.

But some public schools do not offer OSHC, because they either don't have a fit-for-purpose space, or it is not viable to do so. This is particularly the case for schools in regional areas.

We want to extend the genuine opportunity that OSHC provides to all South Australian families.

That's why the Malinauskas Labor Government is taking a plan to the election to make high-quality OSHC available for every public primary school family across the next decade.

Over the first four years of our plan, a new OSHC will be established at 68 public primary schools across the state, creating an additional 2,300 OSHC places - that's a 20 per cent statewide expansion.

We will also continue our work to ensure that every school has a high-quality OSHC program that has a real focus on keeping kids active after school - in sports and in the arts.

This ambitious expansion demonstrates our commitment to South Australian families, making life easier for working families and allowing our children to thrive.
